at a meeting to be held at Mattison B. Jones and the city hall at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. It is to be hoped that a goodly number of taxpavers will attend the gathering, therefore displaying interest in the administration of their city's affairs. We have every confidence that this year's budget has been kept to a minimum figure for we have been promised a lower tax levy this year, and the budget vitally this year, and effects the voter. N an interview given recently by one of our city office holders he made the statement that little change would be made this year in our tax rate. We have been assured that this was a misstatement and that the would be surprisingly lower. We are confident that promises given to the voters at the last election will be kept and are awaiting with interest the final announcement of just how big a reduction has been made.

N checking over yesterday's papers we find a multitude of items telling about automobile accidents.

were injured in an accident which cocurred at Sherman Junction on tered and robbed, according to police

Pasadena reports one man kill ed and five injured in an accident there, and the Los Angeles papers report innumerable accidents.

S omething must be done to eliminate all of this useless toll and damage of human life. With the number of automobiles being sold each day, before many years a large percentage of our families will have one or mor automobiles. They are getting to be an absolute necessity not only in business, but in social activities. In a recent editorial we suggest ed a law be enacted in California compelling all drivers to submit to an examination as to their fit ness, both mentally and physically to drive an auto.

This is the only way we can think of which will cut down these recidents.

S THE law now stands, a A driver's permit can be se-cured by any adult for the mere asking, and children are given them if application is signed by their parents.

What good is this permit? Does it mean anything? Does it signify that the holder is a fit person to handle a high powered car on a congested street? The fact that the parent signs the application for a permit for a child to drive will not be of benefit where an individual is killed or maimed for

F A LAW was enacted which physical and mental fitness t drive an automobile before a friver's permit was issued, the accidents would be reduced to a minimum.

A FTER this was done, a campaign could be launched against all reckless driving. If the judges would give heavy jail sentences to those convicted of reckless driving, found intoxicated, we would have fewer accidents. A pedestrian has a better chance for his life with a footpad armed with a six-shooter than he has if he happens in the path of an automobile driven by an intoxicated driver.

RECKLESS DRIVING S.P. CHARGE AGAINST BOYS IS FALSE

Los Angeles Police Ignorant of Entry on Glendale Dept. Blotter

Charges of reckless driving have not been filed by the Los Angeles police department against G. Brandstatter, 401 West Wilson: Eugene Clark of 336 North Maryland, Glendale. and Jerome May, 1131 Hill drive, Eagle Rock, as stated in the Glendale police department records Monday morning, and so reported in the Glendale Daily Press yesterday.

Investigation shows that there is no officer on the Los Angeles police force by the name of R. I. Blackmore, who is supposed to have arrested these boys in Los Angeles at 1:15 o'clock Monday morning.

There is, however, states the desk sergeant of the Los Angeles police department, a private detective in that city named Blackman. He is in no way connected with the L. A. department, and up to the pres ent time no charges against the boys have been made by

According to the boys, some man who said he was a policeman, stopped them, when they were going pretty fast, but he gave them no tag and did not tall them to report anywhere.

MONDAY SHOPPING

Fourth Week of Shop-to-Shop Plus Press Is Productive

By JENNIE SWENSEN

This is evident, after a tour of inspection of all of the stores which placed advertising with the Glendale Press Saturday Shopping News sections last Saturday. keen response to the advertise-ments was reported at all of the large stores, and a like report was made by a generous percent of the smaller stores.

The results also show that buying and selling in Glendale is becoming systematized. Not only are the buyers of Glendale the kind of buyers who want what they want when they want it, but they are at the recent meeting, are being demanding that they be able to get where they want it.

This desire, which is age-old among customers and a recognized factor in the stimulation of trade among merchandisers, seems only to be realized on the part of the average merchant in a city, after the city has become of such a size as to justify a minute analysis of the wants of the public.

The Saturday Shopping News

ection in the Glendale Daily Press each Saturday, is the medium of expression on the part of merchants who have struck the keynote of what the people want. The fact of their being represented in that section of the Daily Press, is proof of the fact that they have realized what the people want, for judging by the response to the campaign to establish Monday as the shopping day in Glendale, an honest-to-goodness, big-city, true-value shopping day was their de-mand. VANCOUVER, Wash., June 19.—
United Press.—Negroes, of all the aces who pair off and come to the Clark county auditor's office for marriage licenses, are the most polite, according to the opinion expressed by Fred Strickling, auditor, after years of observation.

No negro has ever entered the office without removing his hat, Strickland has said, while they al-ways sign the necessary papers and go through the usual ceremony of elegance that is not displayed by other races.

Also, unlike many white briderooms-about-to-be the negro swain doesn't pretend to see something funny in the proximity of the labels, "Marriage License," and "Dog License," on the counter, Strickland observed.

The Troop Leaders' Roundtable of the Verdugo Hills district, Boy Scouts, at a meeting held Monday evening in the First Congregational church of Glendale, decided not to hold a session during the month of July. This action was taken be cause a large number of the leaders are planning to go on their vaca tions during the month while others will be attending the Boy Scout camp near Lake Arrowhead.

H. Benjamin Robison, newly elected chief councilor of the round table presided over the meeting Scout executive Harold Benner told the scout leaders about the recent Scout executive conference held in Yosemite National park.

The 1923 co-operative troop camp came in for considerable discus-sion. A large number of the scout aders are planning to attend the camp during the period their scouts are there. Transportation seems to be working out in fine shape Two of the Scoutmasters reported that they were making personal visits to the home of every Scout in their troop. Others reported that applications for reservations were coming in unusually fast, it being estimated that more than 100 Scouts will be in camp during

CONGGREGATIONAL CLASS PROGRAM IS ENJOYABLE

Members of the Friendship class the Congregational church, together with husbands and memers of the men's class, gave an excellent interpretation of "The Family Album," an old-fashioned nook of character poses at the church social hall last Thursday

The characters, arrayed in old- punch. fashioned costumes, appeared in a picture frame set in the center of the stage, while their whole life history was narrated by a little girl (Mrs. Payne) out of the allow which shows a payne) out of the allow which shows a stage of the sta bum which she was showing to the preacher (Mr. Calderwood). Many of the characterizations were very clever, as was the work of Mrs. Payne and Mr. Calderwood.

"The Album" was supplemented by choral numbers, sung by the Friendship class under the direction of Mrs. W. Q. Widdows, teacher of the class. Other classes and church members contributed

The presentation was so clever and well received that the class is "The Album on a larger and cleverer scale.

Maids and Matrons Section Achieve Novelty in First Annual Frolic

Weird owls silhouetted against the branches of trees that forme the motif of decoration repeated in the four corners of the Tuesday Afternoon club ballroom last night at the first annual dancing party given by the maids and matron section of the club. With the lights in the other sections of the hall turned on dim the decorations were most effective.

This very jolly social affair marked the close of the maids and matrons section meeting until after the summer vacation. Very clever favors had been prepared by the members of the section and were distributed during the evening, including crepe paper crowns, bal-loons, jingle bell wristlets, rubber balls, etc. The grab bag dance was very unique, the favors being of candy decorated with crepe paper to represent dolls. A serpentine dance marked the grand finale for the evening, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the seventy-five couples

Those not caring to dance played cards in the tea room. Excellent music for dancing was furnished by Jerry Parkers five-piece orches tra. Punch was served in the palm room throughout the evening.

Mrs. Claude G. Putnam, newly elected curator of the section, was general chairman of this successful social affair. She was assisted by Mrs. Charles H. Meadows and Mrs. E. B. Sutton. WATER POWER SOUND INVESTMENT FOR SALE BY OWNER ONLY OR ROGER W. BABSON TELLS HOW TO GET SAFETY IN PLACING FUNDS ANY REALTOR REPRESENT-

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., June 15.

Recent brokerage failures have ended to emphasize once more the continual loss suffered by the investing public. Losses from unsound practices in brokerage con-erns can be overcome by proper egulation. Losses from investment in poor securities cease, however, only when the investor be comes more skillful in the selection of his securities. Roger W. Babson says that the investor needs the spirit of service.

"The reason people lose money on many of their investments is due to the fact that they select them with an eye only to possible profits without considering the service rendered," says Mr. Bab-

son. "If you will be sure, instead, to put your money where it will render a service, profits will come almost automatically. I have just been visiting the sites of some proposed water power developments in the Adirondacks, and water power, to me, constitutes the most fascinating field for sound invest-loaded coal cars extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific and back again. The Panama Canal was 10 years in building. During this time the available water power wasted in New York state

"Someone has figured this waste in the terms of bread, and found t equivalent to 4,250,000 loaves of bread a day. Thus, when this waste in one state of New York alone is translated into commodities it is found to be sufficient to supply the bread requirements of that entire state. When you conider that the population of this state is nearly one-tenth the population of the United States, you gain some idea of how enormous this waste is; a waste which needs only capital and government cooperation to develop for the service tively permanent investment. In the case of railroads and even steam power plants, there is a high rate of depreciation. If this de-preciation is allowed to continue, he efficiency of operation is great-y reduced. In a water power plant the depreciation is a comparative-ly small item. Water power plants are almost independent of the fluctuations in the labor and commod ty markets. This means that when profitable rates are once fixed by the company or a state commis-sion, the profits are not liable to be absorbed by an increase in either wages or commodity prices

the use of electricity is constantly increasing. Here is a resource which nature has given us. It needs but capital and legislation to put it to the service of man. By its development and itse millions of homes will be brighter and the work of millions of housewives

THE THINGS WE SEE

By H. ADDINGTON BRUCE Author of "The Riddle of Personality," "Self-Development," Etc. (Copyright, 1923, by The Associated Newspapers)

Recently, according to a news dispatch, an important letter was lost in a bank. It remained lost until one of the bank clerks was hypnotized, whereupen he promptly led the hypnotist to a spot where the letter had accidentally fallen between two bookcases.

This has been broadcasted as a triumph of clairvoyance. Actually there would seem to be no need to resort to clairvoyance to explain the letter's recovery.

Presumably the clerk selected to be hypnotized was selected because there was special reason to believe he might have knowledge of the letter's hiding-place, perhaps as having been the last man to handle the letter. In that case he might well have seen the letter fall between the bookcases, might have himself dropped it there without being aware of the fact.

He would then have possessed, in the subconscious depths of his mind, a memory-image of where the letter was. In the hypnotic state this memory-image would have opportunity to rise into remembrance, it being well established that hypnotism favors the recall of "forgot-

So, for that matter, does the state of sleep favor their recall. Left to himself the bank clerk, soon or late, might have had a dream similar to one reported by Andrew Lang, a dream which in this instance led to the recovery of a missing check.

The dreamer was a lawyer, who had sat up late to write letters. About midnight he went out to post them. On his return he looked vainly for a check for a large amount, received by him during the day.

That night he dreamed he saw the check in an area near his home. Waking, he was so impressed by the dream that he dressed and went to the spot indicated, where he found the check as dreamed-and where, quite evidently, he had, without knowing it, seen it fall from his pocket or perhaps from among the letters he had taken to the mail-box.

Compare also the case of a Californian who one day lost a gold ring given him by his sister. For hours he searched for it. Then he dreamed that he saw it lying in the sand beneath a swing in which he had been sitting that afternoon. Like Andrew Lang's lawyer, he found it precisely where he had dreamed it was.

And again, to explain this dream, it is only necessary to remember that all the time we are seeing things without being aware of the seeing. Anything that comes within our range of vision-or hearing-may become part of the permanent contents of the mind, and may later become known to us.

It is well to bear in mind this important fact of "subconscious perception" and "subconscious memory" when incidents such as that of the bank's lost letter come up for explanation.

Eagle Rock Vet Speaks in Flag Day Exercises at Santa Monica

At the 36th annual encampment of the Southern California Veterans' association, which is being held on the Methodist assembly ids in Santa Monica canyon Flag Day" was celebrated with appropriate exercises and C. H. Clarke of Eagle Rock, past commander of the N. P. Banks post of this city ,was the speaker. The sermon preached at the memoria services held Sunday was by an other member of the Glendale post. chaplain and patriotic instructor Rev. C. R. Norton.

The Press is indebted to Mr Clarke for the following good story of camp doings: "Santa Monica Canyon, June 16.

The encampment of the South-Veterans 'association is now in full swing, and the daily program is being carried out in good order. Yesterday the ex-prisoner of war had their opportunity to relate some of their experiences in rebel prisons from which several scaped and after many hardships succeeded in evading the enemy getting through to Union lines. Fifteen, whose terms in the ens ranged from a few hours to months, were on the stage and their stories were eagerly heard by a well-filled house.

The evening's entertainment put on by Robley D. Evans Women's Relief Corps of Los Angeles, was an exceptionally fine one. The principal artists were colored jubilee singers whose every numer met with hearty applause. The melody of their voices blended in perfect harmony and the rendition of "Old Black Joe" was of a high order of artistry.

Today will come the slaughter of the pigs under the direction of Mary Dunning, president of the Penny club. The proceeds of this unique feature will provide the funds for the "bean day dinner," which will take place Tuesday.

Tomorrow will be Memorial day at which time the names of those members of the various affiliated organizations who have passed away during the year, will be read. and a sermon by Chaplain C. R. Norton, suited to the occasion, will

CONVERSION'S JOY IS CHILD-FEEDING KRINGLE

Rev. Henry O. Kringel delivered First Vice President American swer is very plain. It is that some a sermon at the services of the means need to be provided to en- Concordia Lutheran church on the theme taken from St. Luke 15:1-10, namely: "The joy of Jesus over the conversion of sinners." A good audience was present.

The speaker said in part: "The first sentence of today's text contains the words: 'Then drew near unto Him all the publicans and influences we own standpoint, but from the stand-have in the Unit- point of the banker and business sinners to hear Him.' An extraordinary message! Unto Him whose conditions with ucts on the market at the time holiness is not only perfect, but so great that even the seraphim dare not uncover their faces while singing His praise—to Him drew near sinners and publicans, all of them -thieves, murderers, etc. Should one not expect that a simple flash of displeasure from His divinely holy eye would destroy them in an instant? Yet, they draw near unto Him, they crowd around about He hears their complaints and listens to their sorrows, He eases their heavy hearts, forgives them, assures them of His love; He eats and drinks, and makes fast, friends with them.

"Oh, what a comforting mes age-'publicans and sinners drew near to Him!' How that should interest every sinner. Nevertheless, what do we hear?

'And the Pharisees and scribes murmured, saying: this man receiveth sinners and eateth with them.' Instead of admiring Christ they are shocked.

"Is Christ ashamed or silent? No, He seizes upon this occasion to set forth His love for sinners in three parables, and in such glowing colors that unless one is a perfect Pharisee, all hardened in self-A.—I always have been, and if righteousness, he cannot but reany of these sugar profiteers are joice with Jesus that He loves to receive sinners.

"But how dearly Christ loved every human soul, did not fully become known until He undertook to redeem it.

"The second reason why Jesus is full of joy over the conversion of sinners, is that it means such hard work to seek them. This point is especially emphasized in the sec-ond parable when Christ says: Either what woman having ten pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a candle and sweep the house and seek diligently till she find it?'

"Some people, indeed, think Christ could avoid all of the trouble here indicated by simply using His divine power: But He will not do that. He wants to change their hearts. He wants to be praised be-hearts. He wants to be praised be cause of His love and mercy and not because of His almighty power.

"A general rejoices so much more in a victory, the more work it has cost. A physician delights so much more in a cure, the more desperate has been the condition of the patient. Therefore, the greater the sinner's depravity and misery, and the longer he has gone astray, the more does the dear Savior of mankind rejoice, when at last He wins the lost sinner who has repented of his sins and believes in Jesus Christ.

"Christ says: 'I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, who need no repentance.' The converted sinners.

order the results of their learning and wisdom .-

It is useless to try to ignore the fact that there are elements in this country bent upon bringing about who, touched by some spirit of discontent, are ready serby. to rebel against things as they are. Most of these dupes are too befuddled mentally to realize that they are not acting on their own initiative, but that stealthily and insidiously, they are being poisoned. They are being made to renounce their love of country, the love instinctive in every individual capable of good citizenship. They do not know that instead of working for better conditions here, they are working the will of subtle masters, arch communists, enemies of the whole world.

There are few communists bold enough openly to proclaim their doctrines here, for these naked doctrines would be subject to instant rejection. Not even citation of the "glorious triumph" of communism (that has reduced Russia to a plane of wretchedness such as the world seldom has seen), could win advocates to an illogical policy of brutality and horror. So these enemies mostly are in disguise. They pick at the foundations of the constitution. They preach of the folly and fallacy of restrictive statutes. They declare that the people have no liberty of expression. They marshal the loafer, the agitator, the "parlor pink," and start each group as a center of protest. Against what? Against all that society has builded, all that culture has wrought; against the concerted effort of industry to prosper; against capital and la-bor; against religion and the school. And most of these groups, boring away at the behest of a malevolent creature who aspires to be dictator of what now is civilization, have no realization of the mischief they are doing, and are not faintly aware of the fact that as they prate of liberty, they are seeking enslavement.

Recently a man was observed feeding pigeons in a public square in Los Angeles. Down upon the offender swooped a faithful guardian of the law. For to feed pigeons in a public square is a crime against the peace and dignity. It is punishable by a fine not exceeding $500, or a term of imprisonment not more than six months.

The desperate character of the citizen who would lade his pockets with food for hirds need not be enlarged upon. Shall the safety of the people, and the sanctity of the square in which they do their loafing be imperilled by such presence? Not on your tintype, one might reply, if inclined to be emphatic.

It is possible that the judge may shirk full duty. He might feel such sympathy for the erring as to make the fine $1 or less, and pay it himself, or cut the jail term down to thirty seconds, and suspend this part of the penalty. The judiciary has been harshly criticized for undue elemency before now.

Of course to the average person, he never having been bitten by a pigeon, the fight on these birds did look rather silly. #### The Heart of a Buffalo Cow By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

"A buffalo cow and a woman, tuan-Allah has nade them much alike.'

Tuan means master, and the man thus addressed by a Malay hunter was Charles Mayer, a dealer in wild animals who seeks his living wares in the federated Malay states.

The story of the buffalo cow is worth repeating because of the pathos of it and for another reason which will appear in due season. It happened in the jungles of Burma that a tiger killed the calf of a water buffalo. The mother engaged the beast in bat-tle and the party of Mayer, coming up in the midst of the conflict, climbed trees to watch. The conflict was magnificently barbaric and the watchers laid wagers on the combatants.

The mother buffalo killed the tiger, crushing him to pulp beneath her tremendous weight, but not until she herself was wounded beyond help. When the enemy was dead she staggered to her calf and called it mournfully, and when it did not reply she lifted it very tenderly on her long horns.

It was then that the Malay spoke the words which open this story, and it was then that the American in mercy gave the mother the "bullet" the save words which was a story to the mother the "bullet".

The hunters descended from their trees and stood about the dead cow admiringly while they draing to a close. Reduced to a sentence, his theor is that the "East will be East." That such an outtenderly, admiringly and—here is the curious quirk in human psychology—they whispered to her as their highest praise that she "had the heart

There are two sides to this question. For a short time "the error" and "the correction" were run on the same day, but the arrangement was changed back to "Yesterday's Error" for the following reasons.

That is the whole question. And it is well to keep it in mind when listening either to the excited declaration of its opponents or the enthusiastic admiration of pro-leaguers who mischanged back to "Yesterday's Error" for the following reasons.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

One reads, with a degree of concern depending on his state of ind, that this country is to engage in civil war in 1942-44. That is a long way shead, and the present is too early to fret acutely about it.

Still it might be well to seek to avert such a war, which would be an unfortunate episode.

It is worth while to add that the prediction is prophesying from the basis of teagrounds in the bottom of a cup. Or to be briefer, it is not a science at all. It is the lingering ghost of an ancient superstition. The naive faith of the astrologer in herself or himself is matched by that of the sucker, or come-on, as the fellow is known who is taken in by a confidence game. The stars are beautiful objects of a clear night. Much poetry has been written about them, including the immortal "Twinkle, twinkle." Interesting facts concerning their composition, environment and habits are discovered from time to time. But the stars are not the symbols of individual human fate.

Europe appears to be troubled because of the possibility of a separate peace between Greece and Turkey. There are diplomatic reasons for feeling apprehensive; but from this distance even a separate peace seems better than the absence of peace of any sort. Army fashions have been set for the next two years, this showing a different method of procedure from that governing feminine fashions. The army officer knows now just what will be proper for him to wear a season hence. Sometimes the style of feminine wear changes while the goods are at the dressmaker's, and the completed garment is out of date.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

My friend Joe Bagley sat back while he rested his coupon thumb. When to marry a man is the only way to and laid the shears down on the table.

"I never thought I'd have 'em," he said, glancing fondly at the mess of bonds on the table. "I never hoped for 'em. I thought I was ruined when I lost my job."

It was not in his earliest youth when he lost it. He had lost many other jobs before. He had arrived at that time of life when it seemed to him that a permanent job would be the fondest possession a man The average road hog deserves to be shot in could have. His idea of complete happiness included a salary check each Saturday night. The number of hours of toil which might be demanded of the checkee did not enter into his calculations at all. "It was my duty to open the office at 8 o'clock in the morning," he said. "After toiling all day I then called on various customers at night, that being the only time I could reach them. One morning he was inspired to wit. He had been working harder than usual, keeping longer hours, and had begun to believe himself as indispensable to the institution as the institution was to him. Being half an hour late his grumpy boss glared at him as he hung up his hat,

"Where," asked the boss, "do you think you're working? In a "No," said Mr. Bagley, with that snappy humor that characterizes him. "In a bank they say 'good morning.'"

That was all. His resignation was accepted at once, and he went On second thought the moral may be that Mr. Bagley should have gult that sort of a boss long before.

Aided by Confidence and Determination Will Result in Home Ownership

Every one admires a man who says: "It can be done" and then, by his own efforts makes it a realization. Too many of us travel the road of least resistance, fearing to undertake anything that is going to call for obligations, special efforts or sacrifices, while, as a matter of fact, every one who has made good or who has attained success has fought for it.

There is no such thing as "It can't be done." Home Ownership is daily being made a reality by others and by home-owning desires inborn in each and every one of us; and all around us evidences of determination - families who are comfortably housed in homes of their own-with no more ability or larger earnings than you, are object-lessons that reflect our own inability in making the Real staple wealth is represented only in happiness and contentment, the foundation of which is real estate, on which to build a home you can call your own. And home ownership can only be acquired by those with stickability and perseverance. "The postage stamp offers an object lesson—it sticks to one thing 'till it gets there. Sometimes it encounters difficulties, but eventually its usefulness is proven by its stick-to-it-tiveness."

You can not refer to a really successful man who has not acquired his real wealth by means of constant reliable efforts, and by far the majority of them started at the very bottom, and won their present proud position by applying their first savings to a lot on which to erect a home.

Buy a lot today-for it is the safest, most permanent, conservative investment you can make, and even though your financial conditions permits of only a small payment, it will represent a start which will eventually deliver to you the greatest amount of returns in both money and happiness that you can make. If you have a lot or have the ready means to acquire one, then start at once to prove it. The satisfaction and contentment of home-ownership and the safe and sure returns will be your just reward.

A key to a home of your own awaits your determination to apply for one.

Aren't you about ready to undertake this, the greatest of earthly possessions?

Other Bids to Be Asked for; Luther Wins Montrose Building

LA CRESCENTA, June 19.-At meeting of the board of trustees of the local schools Friday evening, bids were opened for the building of the Montrose school and improvements to be made on the La Crescenta school.

M. E. Luther of San Fernando was the lowest bidder on the Mont-rose building, which is to consist of three rooms, library and kitchen of ornamental brick construction, with tile roof and patio porch, with ron fence inclosure. Mr. Luther's bid was $21,850.

All bids for the improvement of the La Crescenta building were reected, as too high, and after making some changes and eliminating part of the improvements, the board of trustees will again adver-tise for bids on this work. Mr. Luther comes highly recommended, having built many school buildings in Southern Caiifornia.

THE SEED AND THE DEED

The little seed that came from where? Nobody knows. Borne on the wings of Autumn air?

what far ways it came to fall Upon this place, a thing so small The passer by scarce saw at all. Nobody knows.

By what strange chance it made its way, Nobody knows.

What impulse thrilled it day on day, Nobody knows. When first it burst its wall and shell The germ in it to wake and swell, When life first quivered, who can tell? Nobody knows.

But here at last a mighty tree, That seed hath made To fling its mantle over me, And bring me shade. So broad of limb, so rugged, high, A very thing of majesty, What gift of joy for you and me Here hath been laid.

The little deed that came from where? Nobody knows.

A simple deed, and yet how fair Nobody knows. And so how far the deed may go,

What winds may bear it to and fro, And what high glory from it grow Nobody knows.
